£150 tuition + B & B. Details: 01285 760659

WORKSHOP AIMS

This workshop is aimed at people wishing to develop their watercolour technique in a small group setting with tutorial support.

This will be achieved by a combination of short, informal instruction, demonstrations and individual tuition and feedback.

CONTENT

Whilst the content of the workshop will be flexible to meet people's needs, it is likely to cover such aspects as composition, tone, colour, perspective and the value of pen and wash and/or tonal sketches, as information and preparation for a final painting.

LOCATION

The workshop will be based in a beautiful area of the South Cotswolds in the Stroud Valleys and Laurie Lee's Slad Valley. The area offers outstanding opportunities for landscape subjects including pretty villages and Cotswold cottages, old mills, canals, lakes, rivers and open country scenes.

While, weather permitting, we shall be painting outside, we have the use of the tutor's studio if it is wet.

ACCOMMODATION

Bed and breakfast accommodation is available locally from £45 a night and there are a number of local pubs serving excellent evening meals.

ARRIVAL

It is suggested that participants who are travelling some distance may wish to arrive the evening before the workshop so that we can get off to an early start on the first day.
